LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

from

THE SOUTH CAROLINA STATE LIBRARY

To His Excellency, the Honorable James P. Edwards, Governor of South Carolina, and to The Honorable Members of the General Assembly of South Carolina:

Dear Sirs:

We have the honor to transmit the report of the South Carolina State Library for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1977.

The fiscal pressures of the past year, and the corresponding reduction of funds for the State Library, made it difficult for the agency to function with its customary efficiency and effectiveness. However, skillful management, plus available federal funds, made it possible for the library to maintain the same level of service as the previous year. We are hopeful that the improved economy of the State will enable us to continue without the need to curtail any services.

The State Library is especially pleased with the County and Institutional libraries, and with the expanded services to the blind. Providing information to State government in greater quantity last year is another indication of the important, but often underrecognized role of the State Library.

Respectfully submitted,

EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT

THE SOUTH CAROLINA STATE LIBRARY

July 1, 1976 - June 30, 1977

The South Carolina State Library is charged with the responsibility for the development and coordination of a statewide program of library service. It is the central source of information for State government, State agencies and the public and institutional libraries of the state. The continued progress of the state, the improvement of its government, and the success of its programs depends upon accurate and up-to-date information. By law this agency's responsibilities include all the duties of a general state library and, in addition, the development of a program of statewide library service to meet the needs of the people of the state. To meet this responsibility and the specific responsibilities under the law, the State Library has established the following basic objectives: (1) To provide comprehensive library services and resources to the people of South Carolina giving every individual access to the informational resources of the state. (2) To furnish reference, loan, and research services to State government and State government agencies. The State Library serves government as a major information resource, research facility and as a link to other libraries and specialized data sources throughout the state annd nation. In the following report each program designed to accomplish the basic objectives is described and a year's progress reported.

READER SERVICES

The Reader Services Department is responsible for providing assistance in the use of the reference and information sources of the State Library. Members of State government and State agencies make direct use of the library's resources. Citizens of the State have access to the library's services through their local public library.

REFERENCE AND INFORMATION SERVICE TO STATE GOVERNMENT

A major reference function of the State Library is to provide research service and educational materials to support the information needs of State government and State agencies. As an information center, the State Library maintains a strong, well-balanced collection of books, periodicals, microforms, and Federal and State documents. This carefully selected collection, available for all State employees at a central location, reduces the need for duplication of expensive research materials within individual State agencies. A highly trained reference staff processes requests for information from State government and State agencies. To obtain information and materials not available locally, the State Library has access to other specialized collections through its participation in the Southeastern Library Network (SOLINET), a computerized bibliographic network of major research libraries throughout the country. Teletypewriter facilities are utilized to transmit information requests rapidly to major research collections.

The reference staff works closely with members of State government and State agency employees to inform them of the library's services. Formal library orientation sessions tailored to the specific information needs of individual departments were held during the past year. Since materials are constantly being added to the collection, the State Library publishes monthly a selective listing of recent materials entitled "New Resources for State Government and Agencies". This current awareness publication is distributed to key personnel in all State agencies and members of the General Assembly during statewide session.

Statistics on library use provide a measure of the effectiveness of the library's services. During 1976-77, State employees and members of State government borrowed 15,781 books, and the reference staff processed 5,156 reference questions.

LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE SERVICE

The State Library maintains a special information service for members of the General Assembly during statewide session. An information specialist from the State Library is present in the State House to receive information requests from the General Assembly. Requests for research are telephoned to the State Library for prompt processing. In addition to serving legislators, the information specialist works closely with standing committee researchers of the House and Senate to facilitate their use of the State Library's resources. During the past year a librarian from the State Library participated in a formal orientation of new members of the House of Representatives, explaining the State Library's collection and specialized services available for the General Assembly. In the past year, legislators or their researchers borrowed 375 books and submitted 280 reference questions. The State Library also provided over 1,600 pages of photocopy in response to reference questions.

REFERENCE AND INTERLIBRARY SERVICE

The State Library is the central unit of the statewide interlibrary loan network designed to supplement and coordinate library resources in South Carolina. The Reference and Interlibrary Loan Service, drawing on the State Library's book collection and specialized sources, works through local libraries to supply South Carolinans with materials and information. Public and State institutional libraries have direct access to the State Library via In-WATS; the utilization of telephone service allows interlibrary loan requests to be submitted and processed rapidly. A microfilm copy of the library's card catalog has been placed in thirty-five public libraries throughout South Carolina to enable librarians to quickly determine the holdings of the State Library. During the year, an annual supplement to the catalog was distributed.

To provide the highest level of service, the State Library makes use of other major collections within the State and the nation. The State Library has microfilmed the catalogs of Clemson University and the University of South Carolina to gain access to the resources of the State's two major university libraries. Access to the resources of the nation's libraries, required by more technical or comprehensive requests, is provided by holdings of several major union catalogs and by membership in the Southeastern Library Network (SOLINET). Through SOLINET, the State Library can use its on-line capability to draw on a computerized data base of over three million items and locate titles held by more than 1,100 libraries (including ten South Carolina libraries). Once the locations have been identified, requests for materials can be rapidly transmitted by teletypewriter.

As part of a continuing effort to encourage improvement of library service in South Carolina, the State Library sponsored a series of reference training workshops. The individual design of these sessions was determined by responses to a needs assessment questionnaire distributed to all public libraries. The workshop series will continue into the coming year.

During 1976-77, the Reference and Interlibrary Loan Service received 4,452 In-WATS calls, answered 4,398 reference requests, and supplied 18,893 books and 11,171 pages of photocopy in reply to interlibrary loan requests.

GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS

The South Carolina State documents collection maintained by the State Library is the most comprehensive source for official publications of South Carolina State agencies and government. The existing collection has proved to be invaluable to researchers from this State and others. The documents provide up-to-date statistical information usually not available in other publications and serve as an excellent source for historical research on South Carolina. As new publications are issued, the State Library makes every effort to obtain copies to add to the collection. Since the collection has been in existence since 1970, older documents are added as they become available. During the year 2,442 publications were added to the collection bringing the total number of documents to 18,911. South Carolina is one of the few states which has not enacted State documents depository legislation requiring that all publications be sent to the State Library. Without such legislation, it is difficult to be certain that all current publications are received.

As the State documents collection becomes better known, State agencies are referring individuals to the State Library to use their publications no longer available for distribution, reducing additional publication costs and unnecessary distribution of State publications. The State Library annually compiles and publishes the Checklist of South Carolina State Publications which lists publications of State governmental departments received by the State Library during the fiscal year. During the year more than 500 copies of this publication were distributed.

TECHNICAL SERVICES

The Technical Services Department coordinated the selection and ordered and processed all materials for the State Library collection, including large-type books and audio-visual materials. The bookstock is a one copy, non-fiction collection, except for South Carolina titles. It includes periodicals and newspapers in both paper and microfilm, and services such as ERIC in microfiche. There are separate collections of both Federal and State documents. Additions during the year are as follows:

Item	Additions	Totals
Books	7,810	136,367
State documents	2,442	18,911
Federal documents	5,524	19,011
Microfilm (reels)	879	8,070
Microfiche	22,024	111,094

The second supplement to the microfilm edition of the State Library's card catalog was prepared and prints sent to holders of the original edition, which included Area Reference Resource Centers and county and regional libraries. This was a cumulative supplement and included all cataloging since the original edition.

In order to facilitate work of the library, the department filmed the index to South Carolina items in The State and the Columbia Record newspapers. The index was prepared by the Richland County Public Library and covers the period from November 1, 1973 through December 31, 1975.

The State Library completed its second year as a member of the Southeastern Library Network (SOLINET) which gives it access by contract to the Ohio College Library Center (OCLC) data base. The cataloging section is connected by direct telephone lines to the data base and all cataloging is being done through the computer terminal, including the ordering of cards. The terminal is available to other departments to locate items needed for reference or interlibrary loan, since all cataloging done through the system shows location of materials.

During the year the department assumed responsibility for ordering and cataloging films for the Film Program. The cataloging records go into the data base, also.

FIELD SERVICES

The field service program is carried out by a team of public library consultants who serve as liaison between the State Library and the county or regional systems to which they are assigned. They assist librarians and trustees in public libraries throughout the state to work out solutions to problems. Consultants provide ideas and information on such diverse topics as library planning, staff development, public relations, and budget preparations. This year much of the field service staff's time revolved around helping local librarians and their boards to deal with the many changes which are taking place in local government as a result of the new home rule legislation. Through advice on a one-to-one basis, in meetings, and through statewide workshops, the consultants have been effective in the development of public libraries and librarians around the state and in making librarians aware of South Carolina's library needs and ways to meet these needs. Among the responsibilities of the field service staff is supervision of State Aid to county and regional libraries and of local projects funded with Federal funds administered by the State Library. During the year the four field service librarians:

—worked with 39 systems serving all 46 counties of the state

—made 216 field trips

—attended 49 local library board meetings

—monitored library budgets including approximately $6.3 million in local funds

—administered $906,681 in State Aid grants to public libraries

—supervised LSCA projects providing approximately $506,000 in grants-in-aid

—represented the State Library at local, state, and national conferences, conventions, workshops, professional associations, building dedications, civic organizations and other state and local meetings —provided recruiting, placement, and training services for public librarians.

STATE AID TO PUBLIC LIBRARIES

The program of State Aid to public libraries established in 1943 has been instrumental in the development of the county and regional libraries which now serve the entire state. State Aid is administered by the State Library under regulations which guarantee the wise use of State Aid funds to achieve a higher level of service for the people of the state. The regulations encourage public libraries to employ well qualified staff, develop book collections of high quality and administer the local library program economically and efficiently.

The wise use of both local and State Aid funds has enabled all libraries in the state to achieve a better level of service. Rising library costs and the increased demand for library and information service, point up the need for an increase in State Aid if libraries are to achieve their full potential of service to the people of the state.

FEDERAL AID TO SOUTH CAROLINA PUBLIC LIBRARIES

A major program of the State Library is the administration of funds under the Library Services and Construction Act. The program began in 1956 with funds for the extension and improvement of public library service; in 1966 the program was expanded to include state institutional libraries. Federal funds are used in addition to and not instead of state and local funds. The objective of this program is to remedy the major deficiencies in public and institutional library service; great strides have been made towards realizing this goal. Countywide library service is now available in all of the state's forty-six counties and library service established in all of the state's institutions. Per capita ownership of books has risen dramatically and the number of professional librarians employed in the state in public and institutional libraries has risen to 150. With the aid of federal funds libraries in the state are better housed, better staffed and better stocked than ever before.

A major accomplishment of federal aid has been the coordination of library resources in the state to better serve the people of the state. An active library network provides for the interloan of resources, helps to eliminate expensive duplication of materials, and accomplishes its main objective of providing a good level of service to all South Carolinians whether they live in a remote rural area or in a central city.

In addition to funds under the Library Services and Construction Act, many libraries have been able to secure Federal Revenue Sharing funds at the local level which have been used for library building construction, purchase of bookmobiles, and the improvement of book and materials collections.

The unquestioned success of the program of federal aid to libraries in South Carolina is due largely to careful planning and a consistent program of delegating funds and responsibility to local county, regional and institutional libraries for the development of programs designed to meet local needs.

FILM PROGRAM

Three years ago the State Library, in cooperation with the Instructional Services Center of the University of South Carolina, established a Film Program designed to strengthen and expand the resources of South Carolina public and institutional libraries. All of the films are 16mm informational films for adults and are used by public and institutional libraries to meet the informational needs of library patrons.

The film collection now numbers 656 films with 151 new films being added this year. A catalog of the film collection is provided for ease in using this service.

Forty-one public and institutional libraries participate in the State Library's Film Program. During the year libraries sponsored a total of 3,434 programs and reached an audience of 96,365. These figures represent a 100% increase in usage over the previous fiscal year.

The State Library conducted a two-day film workshop in Columbia in September. The session was designed to explore innovative ways of utilizing films in total library programs. Representatives from 36 of the 41 public and state institutional libraries participating in the State Library's film program attended the workshop.

CONTINUING EDUCATION FOR LIBRARIANS

In an effort to improve personnel performance at all levels, the State Library supports a program of continuing education for the state's public and institutional librarians. Scholarship grants are provided for professional and non-professional librarians—and for public library trustees—to take academic courses in librarianship and to attend seminars and workshops. The scholarship program was expanded in August, 1976 to include tuition grants to cover courses taken throughout the academic year. During 1976-77, scholarships were awarded to six pre-professional librarians from five county library systems and to one institutional librarian to take basic courses in the areas of reference, book selection, technical services, and children's literature.

The State Library staff were also given training opportunities. A member of the Field Services Staff attended a seminar entitled "Sharing Library Resources," held in Pittsburg in September 1976 and a conference in Detroit in June 1977 on library service for older Americans; the Director of Reader Services participated in a seminar on Executive Development for Library Administrators, held at Miami University in Ohio in August; and three members of the Technical Services Staff attended conferences on SOLINET. Other staff members attended workshops or meetings on films, documents, and service for the blind and physically handicapped.

The State Library in cooperation with the State's Personnel Division sponsored a workshop on Personnel Management for the directors of South Carolina's county and regional library systems. Thirty-five library directors and assistants participated in the two and one-half day program held in March which included discussions on interpersonal communication, classification and compensation, performance appraisal, and staff motivation.

LIBRARY SERVICE TO THE DISADVANTAGED

The State Library, using federal funds under its administration, provides grants-in-aid to county and regional libraries to establish and expand service to urban and rural disadvantaged. This service now reaches over 40% of the target group, the 150,000 urban and rural South Carolinians with income below the poverty level. Twenty-five county and regional libraries participate in this project and receive grants-in-aid which provides special programs and materials to reach the disadvantaged in 32 counties. With grant funds libraries have employed necessary personnel, developed special book and audio-visual collections, provided transportation and purchased equipment needed in order to implement programs specially designed to meet local needs and conditions. Service to the disadvantaged has now become an integral part of the library program in all counties participating in the project.

INSTITUTIONAL LIBRARY SERVICE

The State Library promotes the development and maintenance of quality library service for resident populations of State supported institutions. Assisted by grants-in-aid and consultant services, institutional libraries provide materials and services especially selected for or adapted to the rehabilitation, education, and recreation of residents as part of each institution's total care program.

Of the seventeen institutions served by this project in FY 77, thirteen employ qualified librarians and offer full-service library programs. Two adult correctional libraries provide a wide range of services and materials; other adult correctional facilities throughout the state receive regularly scheduled visits from the Division's bookmobile. Two juvenile correctional schools have excellent libraries which meet both the educational and recreational needs of their students. Libraries in the State's mental health institutions and in the three centers for the mentally retarded work within the therapeutic and educational programs planned for residents' rehabilitation to offer a variety of specialized materials and programs.

Collections of appropriate paperback books are selected and purchased for three alcohol and drug addictions centers which are too small to supply standard library service for their residents. Through a contract between the State Library and the Florence County Library, both books and the part-time services of a librarian are provided to the South Carolina Crippled Children's Convalescent Center.

LIBRARY SERVICES TO THE BLIND AND PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED

The South Carolina State Library, Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped provides free library services to those individuals unable to read conventional print. This service, which consists of books and current magazines in recorded form (disc and tape), braille, and inlarge print, is administered by the South Carolina State Library in cooperation with the Library of Congress. Most readers read recorded books and for them the library supplies a sound reproducer (either a talking book machine or a cassette playback machine). Braille service is provided under a contract with the North Carolina State Library. The service, including postage costs, is free to the readers.

As of June 30, 1977, the library had 4,251 registered readers, an increase of 737 over 1976. The library served a total of 4,855 people during FY 1977. A total of 98,247 books and magazines were borrowed. Many readers received magazines sent directly to their homes by the Library of Congress which do not appear in these figures. A total of 5,062 books were added to the collection.

The project to record South Carolina books continues. An agreement has been made with the University of South Carolina Department of Theatre and Speech and the Department of Media Arts to produce the recordings. The cassette book collection has been improved by the acquisition of master tape copies of popular talking books originally issued on disc.

Service is chiefly a mail order service from Columbia. A quarterly large print newsletter and an In-WATS telephone line serve as major avenues of communication. Each new reader is contacted by their county library to determine if all equipment sent to them arrived safely and if the reader understands how the program operates. In five counties, Anderson, Charleston, Greenville, Richland and Spartanburg, the State Library maintains browsing collections of several hundred recorded books in the county library.
